GOUCHER COLLEGE CANNON - c. 1776 - Goucher College Campus next to Hoffberger Science Building, Dulaney Valley Road, north of Towson. This cannon along the path to the library was excavated on the campus in 1957 was possibly a property of the armory that preceeded Epsom Chapel. Possibly one of the cannons cast at nearby Northampton Furnace during the Revolution. It had stood on the lawn of the Chew mansion Epsom, until that house burned on March 16, 1894.
